1.3 GROUP HISTORY

The Albawardi Group's story begins in Shaqra, a city in Alwashm region, 185 kilometers northwest of Riyadh. It was here that Sheikh Saad bin Ibrahim Albawardi planted the seeds of what would grow into a legacy. In an era when wealth was counted in land, palm trees, and camels, Sheikh Saad built a reputation as a respected trader, dealing primarily in dates and grains. But his influence reached beyond commerce—he passed on to his sons the values of integrity, discipline, and an unrelenting commitment to excellence.

In the 1930s, his sons Abdul Aziz and Mohammed expanded the family business, traveling to markets in Al-Ahsa and Mecca on foot or by camel. They traded ghee, livestock, fabrics, and carpets, developing their entrepreneurial instincts and forging essential partnerships along the way.

After Abdul Aziz's passing, Mohammed partnered with their younger brother Abdul Rahman. Together, they diversified into construction materials, public transportation, and imports of steel and timber. Officially registering the group in 1957 marked a key milestone in the company's growth.

Our success lies in our adaptability, leveraging strategic partnerships and the expertise of our talented team to navigate the ever-evolving business landscape. As we look to the future, Albawardi Group is aligned with Saudi Arabia's Vision, striving to contribute to the nation's economic growth and sustainability goals.
